My Personal Favorite Classroom

The classroom is the heart of every student. It is an unforgettable place that we remember for the rest of our lives. Classroom makes us what we are in our material life. It has a positive impact on lifelong learning. This article discusses the classroom and its significance for children and students.

A classroom is defined as a place where a group of students study in classes from a particular teacher in a particular subject. Classes are often found in schools, colleges and universities where a variety of skills and subjects are taught to students in a variety of subjects and disciplines. It is a place where all students share the same signs and symbols. My classroom is attractive, open, and airy, with two wide windows and a large door. It has four ceiling fans, and a large board.

The interior walls of my classroom are beautifully decorated with different designs. There are charts, pictures of flowers, trees and a map of the world on its walls. Downstairs, there is a large veranda and a large grassy area with more than a hundred flower pots filled with different colours. The scent of flowers spread attractive fragrance in my classroom. After a Morning assembly as we rush to our classroom, I always sit at a desk near the window because I watch the cold air flowing in the morning. The beauty of nature enriches my mind and makes me feel comfortable.

To the northeast of my classroom is an administrative center. In the management section of our school there are two writers who prepare our result cards and progress cards. My classroom is very quiet, the unusual environment has a noise found in my classroom. In front of the board is a teacher's chair and more than 20 student benches. At each desk two students can sit comfortably.

Next to the black board is a table from where the section is moved. All of us students sit facing the board where we are assigned a lesson and a diary. Our teachers at the end of the class write their homework on the board. After a month all the pictures and charts on the walls of the section are changed with pictures of the outstanding personality of our nation who served the nation selflessly.

There are 45 students in my class, we all live as a family. There are twenty girls in my classroom, all girls are more active and smarter than us boys. Girls always finish homework on time, while the boys often forget to do our homework. Some students are very sharp, God is gifted and different and some are smart and some are stupid. I belong to the category of smart students. We all help each other learn. We keep our classroom organized and clean. Two dust bins are placed in the corners of the classroom where we throw cloths and paper.

All the teachers are loving and kind, the teacher in my classroom is very friendly. He teaches us English and History. All of the professors are dedicated, talented, and knowledgeable. My classroom is the only place where we chat and make full of fun. During the break we share lunch and usually have fun. At various national, international and cultural events we decorate our classroom and try our best to make our classroom more beautiful than any other school classroom. Our school is famous all over the city, it's very big. At any given time, our school can accommodate over three thousand students. Our school is known for its cleanliness and teaching technology.

Our classroom is the best class in our school, our classroom has received many awards and rewards for its cleanliness. All the teachers in the school praised the cleanliness of our classroom.
